

A-3 Skywarrior Models

If you are interested in building or purchasing a model of an A-3 Skywarrior, we would suggest that you look at the alternatives listed below. They vary in price and complexity, from do-it-yourself to a customized build by the pros.

GRIFFIN AEROSPACE

- <http://www.griffinaerospace.com/> - This is the Griffin Aerospace website, they have built a lot of customized A-3 models over the years for members of the A-3 Association. The models take up to six months to receive because they are customized and built in the Philippines. They run about $175.

12 O'CLOCK HIGH

- <http://www.12oclockhigh.com> - This is the 12 O'clock High website. They have several A-3's in stock and look like they are competitive with Griffin Aerospace.
-

COLLECTAIRE

- <http://www.collectaire.com/modelpages/ea3/ea3.html> - This is the $240 Collect-Aire resin model of the EA-3B. This is probably the most accurately scaled and tooled model in the industry however you have to assemble and paint it yourself. Here is a detailed report:
<http://www.collectaire.com/modelpages/ea3/ea3testimonial.html>
-

EBAY

- <http://www.ebay.com/> - Last but not least is eBay where you can always find a scaled down version of the Philippine models for about $50. Also on eBay they sell the Revell and Hasegawa models that need to be assembled. To find these models just search on "skywarrior"
-